The Southern Tier Occupational Health Center (STOHC) is a satellite of the Central New York Occupational Health Clinical Center (CNYOHCC). STOHC serves the residents of Broome, Tioga, and Chenango counties and the surrounding area, with a full range of occupational health services.

The Southern Tier Occupational Health Center of the CNYOHCC is a program of the SUNY Health Science Center at Syracuse through the Department of Family Medicine.

Location

CNYOHCC
Decker School of Nursing
Building B
Binghamton University

Follow the X's to the undergraduate admissions parking lot, marked by a triangle. Go through the lift gate. After your appointment, obtain a parking card from clinic staff. You will need this card to exit the parking lot.

If you have a handicap parking designation, you may park behind Building B, in Lot J designated on the map.

Follow the signs toward the admissions Building A, but turn left into Building B, the Decker School of Nursing. The clinic is located on the 3rd floor.
