New Upstate faculty members who attended this year’s orientation and reception

~ 2014 New Faculty Orientation ~

The 2014 New Faculty Orientation was held on October 15, 2014. Faculty members who recently joined SUNY Upstate Medical University attended the event and received helpful information about our campus. A wine & cheese reception was also held that evening and new faculty members (and some partners) were welcomed by members of Upstate’s leadership, chairs and other colleagues. Thank you to Dr. Gregory Eastwood and Dr. David Duggan for their warm welcome speeches. We would also like to thank presenters; Julie White, PhD, Student Affairs, Jennifer Christner, MD, Curriculum Office, Cristina Pope, MS, MSM, AHIP, Library, Holly Chanatry & Jennifer Rudes, Research Administration, and Sherri McMullen, PhD, RN, FNP, NNP-BC, Ruban Dhaliwal, MD, Brian Thompson, MD, and Gary Chan, PhD for their contributions. A special thanks to the chairs, campus leaders, other members of the faculty and staff who attended as well, and helped our new colleagues feel welcomed and appreciated at another successful event!

The Orientation was facilitated by Paula Trief, PhD, Senior Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs and Faculty Development.

A panel discussion was added to this year’s event where Drs. Sherri McMullen, Ruban Daliwal, Brian Thompson and Gary Chan shared their thoughts about being a new member of the faculty.

Amy Deblois, PT, Physical Therapy – CHP and Bruce Knutson, PhD, Biochemistry & Molecular Biology, get to know one another so that they can introduce each other to the rest of the new faculty members.

Gregory Eastwood, MD, Interim President of SUNY Upstate Medical University visits with Krystle Williams, MD, Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation, and Xiaoli Dong, MD, Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation. Dr. Eastwood gave the closing remarks at the orientation.

Gennady Bratslavsky, MD, Chair, Urology, received a Distinguished Speaker award at the Bon Secours Cancer Institute Inaugural Summit, Richmond, VA, October 10, 2014.

Gregory L. Eastwood, MD, Interim President of Upstate Medical University, was honored as a public health champion for his role in creating a smoke-free campus by the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network. Dr. Eastwood received the network's Donald A Gemson Cancer Prevention Public Policy Award on Oct. 2 at a ceremony in New York City. Under Dr. Eastwood's leadership (he served as president of Upstate from 1993 to 2006), Upstate, in 2005, became the first smoke-free hospital in New York, and the first SUNY site to establish an entirely smoke-free campus. In partnership with the American Cancer Society, Upstate has led policy change in the 64-campus State University of New York system and in Onondaga County.

Upstate Medical University is the proud recipient of the Donald H. Gemson Cancer Prevention Public Policy Award for 2014, the signature cancer-related advocacy award from the American Cancer Society Eastern Division. This award recognizes leadership in broad-based policy change in the fight against cancer. Honorees demonstrate accomplishments in developing, advocating, advancing and/or implementing prevention-focused policies and practices to reduce the incidence and burden of cancer. The award recognizes our significant cancer-related leadership accomplishments in tobacco control and lung cancer, nutrition and physical activity, innovation and discovery, advocacy and access, both in our research and clinical missions. The Award was presented in New York City at the American Cancer Society's Hope Lodge on October 2, 2014, and was accepted by Dr. Eastwood on behalf of all of the providers and staff who contributed to our success.

Leadership in Service

National Leadership

Gennady Bratslavsky, MD, Chair, Urology, served on the Boards of Directors for the Northeast American Urological Association and the Society of Urologic Oncology, Clinical Trial Consortium in 2014.

William J. Brunken, PhD, Ophthalmology, has been elected to serve on the Association of University Professors of Ophthalmology's Research Directors' Council for the next five years.
Jennifer Christner, MD, Pediatrics/Dean’s Office, has been appointed to the Education Committee and to the Clinical Services ADHD Subcommittee of the Society for Adolescent Health and Medicine.

Leslie Kohman, MD, Surgery, a member of the Board of Directors of the Eastern Division Board of the American Cancer Society, has been named Chief Medical Officer for the Division. Dr. Kohman, will promote the goals of cancer prevention, early detection, and quality treatment through cancer research and education.

Oleg Shapiro, MD, Urology, served on the Board of Directors for the Northeast American Urological Association in 2014.

State and Local Leadership

Leah Kaufman, MD, FACOG, Obstetrics and Gynecology, was elected to The American Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology District II (New York State) Legislative Chair position for a second term to serve October 2014-October 2017.

Sue Miller, PT, DPT, MS, Physical Therapy Education, has been appointed to serve on the New York Physical Therapy Association Judicial Committee.

Department News

The Department of Family Medicine and the College of Medicine are celebrating the 25th anniversary of Upstate's Rural Medical Education program, better known as RMED. RMED was introduced by the Department of Family Medicine in 1989 with a goal of alleviating the state's ongoing shortage of physicians who practice general medicine in New York's rural communities. In the ensuing years, 215 students have graduated from this program that has proved successful in providing primary care and specialty physicians for rural practice.

William Brunken, MD, Ophthalmology, Director of the Center for Vision Research at Upstate, was the host and moderator of the SUNY Eye Institute (SEI) which held its 6th annual workshop and conference on the campus of Upstate in September. Attendance at the two-day meeting was the highest in SEI history with 85 attendees. The annual Robert Barlow Memorial Keynote lecture was delivered by Patricia A. D’Amore, PhD, MBA, FARVO, entitled “Growth factors and cell-cell interactions in vessel formation and stability.” Dr. D’Amore is the Director of Research and Senior Scientist at Schepens Eye Research Institute - Mass Eye & Ear as well as the Charles L. Schepens Professor of Ophthalmology (Pathology) at Harvard Medical School. Sunday’s sessions started with a Legislative Forum/Question and Answer Session with Congressman Dan Maffei of the 24th Congressional District. Throughout the meeting scientific presentations were made by SEI faculty including: Andrea Dziubek, PhD from SUNY IT; Eduardo Solessio, PhD from Upstate Medical University who presented, “Temporal Contrast Sensitivity of Rod Pathways in Mouse”; Stewart Bloomfield, PhD from College of Optometry; Kevin Kaplowitz, MD from Stony Brook University; Mark Parker, PhD from University at Buffalo; and Susana Martinzer-Conde, PhD from Downstate Medical Center.

In Memoriam*

Richard Aubry, MD, 81, died suddenly on October 2, 2014. Dr. Aubry specialized in high-risk pregnancies and, for over five decades, championed efforts to lower Central New York's high infant mortality rate. He retired last summer from the department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Upstate after 50 years, having taught obstetrics and gynecology to more than 8,000 students. He also saw more than 8,000 babies born, although he still choked up when talking about the childbirth process.

"As soon as I saw that, I was fixed," he said, describing the first birth he witnessed as a medical student in the late 1950s. "The feeling never wears off. It gets deeper and more meaningful."

Dr. Aubry was one of the nation's first maternal fetal medicine specialists focusing on high-risk pregnancies. He founded the Central New York Regional Perinatal Center in 1976, one of the first facilities of its kind in the country. The center serves high risk mothers and babies from a 15-county region. He also helped develop the Maternal & Child Health Center at St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center in Syracuse. He worked with Onondaga County to launch a federally funded program in 1997, called Healthy Start, that promotes healthy pregnancies, through home visits, case management and education.
Dr. Aubry graduated from New York Medical College in Valhalla, just north of New York City. He subsequently did his training in obstetrics and gynecology at Metropolitan Hospital in New York City, Albany Medical Center and Upstate. He also earned a master's in public health from Harvard in 1987.

Sherrill-Schiele "Bill" Brewer, 77, passed away on September 4, 2014 in a tragic airplane accident. Born in New Rochelle, NY on July 25, 1937, he graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1958. He completed his medical training in 1961 at Upstate Medical School in Syracuse. Upon his graduation from medical school he was commissioned with the Air Force as a flight surgeon and performed active duty from 1962-1964. He then returned to Upstate Medical Center in 1965 to complete his residency in Ophthalmology. In 1968 Dr. Brewer started his medical practice in both Oneida and Rome continuing to help people preserve their vision for 30 years. In addition to his private practice he also served as a faculty member training new ophthalmology residents at the VA Hospital in Syracuse. Dr. Brewer also served with the Air Force Reserves for over 20 years, retiring as a Colonel in 2000. On June 18, 1960 he married Heleene Volk. The couple remained happily married for 54 years creating a family with seven children. Bill's volunteer activities and clubs included the Lions Club, Knights of Columbus, Quiet Birdmen and Madison County Medical Society. He served as a Sherrill City Commissioner from 2002 to 2011. Bill's passions included a deep appreciation for the outdoors and a love of flying. He took his young family to the Adirondacks and soon bought a camp in Beaver River. Summers were spent in the woods and on the waters of the Stillwater Reservoir where Bill found peace and adventure in outdoor projects and pursuits. The Adirondacks always remained a haven for him, his wife and children.

The clear blue sky was a constant draw to Bill Brewer. His interest in airplanes began as a young boy. He soloed when he was 16 and maintained his pilot credentials throughout his life. He considered any time spent in the air with friends and family as preferable to being bound to the ground. He was a Certified Flight Instructor who frequently introduced young pilots to the thrill of flying and infrequently charged them for the service. He lived each day with energy and optimism looking at the gift of 24 hours as something that should be spent learning, working and enjoying family, friends and the opportunities provided by a vigorous life.

Please Note:

1. In an effort to keep the Faculty Commons manageable, we will be concentrating on external presentations and service.

2. Please remember – we do not include any publications, books, book chapters, etc. that are currently “in press”. Please wait until you have publication information before you include these submissions
