

1939

Clayton M. Steward, of Sherburne, NY, died February 15. Dr. Steward served for three years as battalion surgeon of the 753rd Tank Battalion in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and France. After returning from military service, he joined the New York State Department of Health. Steward was named assistant director of health in Binghamton, serving in that position for seven months. He was then assigned to the Saranac Lake District as district health officer providing health services to several counties. He is survived by his wife, Joyce; and several other relatives.

March/1943

Ray E. Deuel, Jr., of Geneva, NY, died September 16. Dr. Deuel worked as a pediatrician in Geneva for 36 years and after his retirement in 1983, continued to work as a doctor for the Geneva City School District until 1997. He is survived by his sons, James and Alan; his daughter, Loring; four grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; his brother Walter; and several nieces and nephews.

1944

William J. McDougall, of Port Ludlow, WA, died July 5. Dr. McDougall served in the Navy from 1944 to 1946 aboard a destroyer. After his discharge in 1946, he took additional surgical training in various hospitals in Seattle, WA, and stayed on in the area. McDougall was a member of several medical associations. He is survived by his wife, Eve; and his son, Jamie.

1947

Henry H. Ludemann, of Somers, NY, died January 18. Dr. Ludemann was a veteran of the U.S. Army and served during WWII and the Korean conflict. Ludemann was an internist and cardiologist and was one of the founding members of the Katonah Medical Group in Katonah, NY. He was on staff at Northern Westchester Hospital in Mt. Kisco, NY, and he also taught medicine at Westchester Medical Center (Grasslands). Dr. Ludemann was an old-time country doctor who made house calls and gave his patients extensive two-hour physicals up to the time of his retirement in 1997. He was famous for his diagnostic abilities. He is survived by his wife, Irene; his daughters, Gail, Pamela, Donna and Cheryl; his son, Gary, and several grandchildren.

Donald J. Warren, of Lubbock, TX, died July 6. Dr. Warren served in the United States Air Force for 21 years before retiring at the rank of Colonel. He practiced as a General Surgeon mainly in California and New Mexico for many years before retiring in 1989. He is survived by his wife Betty; his sons, Doug, and Mark; his daughter, Barbara; his step daughter, Jana; and several other relatives.

1951

Paul J. Furlong, of Miami Beach, FL, died March 16. Dr. Furlong practiced internal medicine and cardiology in Miami Beach for more than 40 years. During WWII, he served in the U.S. Navy and served in the Air Force during the Korean War. Furlong was a Founder at Mount Sinai Medical Center and a member of its Board of Trustees. He is survived by his wife, Estelle; his son, Robert James Furlong, MD; his daughters, Ronnie and Roberta; several grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

1952

John C. Kenealy, of Tyner, NC, died January 11. Dr. Kenealy, who was a urologist, acted as chairman of the Department of Urology in many different hospitals. Following his retirement from active practice, he worked at the Food and Drug Administration for several years. He is survived by his wife, Margaret; his sons, John, Michael and David; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

1956

Edwin C. Gilmore, of Maywood, NJ, died October 16, 2007.

1958

Stephen Gilbert, died July 12. Dr. Gilbert was a neurologist in Brooklyn, NY. He is survived by his wife, Sandra; his daughter, Holly; and his son, Ira.

1962

John H. Hagen, of Syracuse, NY, died September 26. Dr. Hagen was a professor and practicing obstetrician/gynecologist at Upstate Medical University until his retirement in 1995. He is survived by his wife, Donna; and several children and grandchildren.

House Staff

Rachel M. Baker, of Shaker Heights, OH, died July 25. Dr. Baker was a psychiatrist and psychoanalyst who founded the Friends of Cleveland Psychoanalytic Center in Cleveland Heights. She is survived by her husband Donald; her son, Michael; her stepson, David; her brother; and two grandchildren.

William O. Wagner, of Oberlin, OH, died September 11, 2000.

Herman A. Wallinga, of Rush, NY, died August 20, 2006.

Friends

Martha Gersten, of Torrance, CA, died on February 9. She was married to the late Dr. Samuel Gersten, Class of 1939. In 1996, the Gersten family established a very generous endowment fund at Upstate that recognizes four top medical students annually. The Medical Alumni Foundation is grateful to the Gerstens for their generosity and very sad for their loss.