Beam Raising Marks Progress on Nappi Wellness Institute

Nearly half complete, the Nappi Wellness Institute, being built across the street from the Upstate Cancer Center, marked its progress with a ceremonial beam raising and tree-topping ceremony.

The facility, standing more than 100 feet tall, will be the centerpiece of Upstate's ambulatory care, serving as home to a dozen outpatient practices including primary care, mental health, pediatrics and others. It will also include an expansion of Upstate's Geriatrics Clinic, with an enhanced focus on Alzheimer's disease and brain health.

Upstate Named One of the Best Large Employers

By earning this award, Upstate joins the ranks only two dozen universities in the nation and joins such large organizations as Ikea, Apple and NASA as among the honorees.

Forbes compiles its annual list based on an independent survey from more than 50,000 U.S. employees.

Upstate Adds Physician Engagement Liaison

Darcy DiBiase has been hired as Upstate's first Primary Care Liaison. In this role, she will develop and initiate faculty engagement strategies to enhance communication and relationships between local and regional physicians. Darcy has been at Upstate since 2011 and earned a bachelors in communications and a masters of business administration in health services administration at SUNY Oswego.

Email Darcy for information about engagement opportunities and other ways to connect with Upstate.
