

Volume 39
Number 4, 1998

CELL MOTILITY AND THE CYTOSKELETON

WILEY-LISS

ISSN 0886-1544

Visit Wiley Journals Online
www.interscience.wiley.com

Cover micrograph: Montage of images using pseudo-color to show the elongation and disassembly of the tail of alpha-actinin attached to an intracellular Listeria monocytogenes. The black color represents the localization of the alpha actinin molecules in the actin-containing tails. See Narration article in Video Supplement Number 5, edited by Sanger and Sanger, on pages 337-348 in this issue.