Subject: CMO Blast: National Doctor's Day Message from Scott Jessie, Chief Nursing Officer

Importance: High

Sent on behalf of Scott Jessie, Chief Nursing Officer, Upstate University Hospital...

On behalf of Upstate Nursing, I would like to wish all of you a Happy Doctor's Day!

At Upstate, we are very lucky to have such a tremendous group of committed, skilled and collaborative physician partners.

We work side by side to provide care for those most in need, the sickest, and the most critically injured across all of Central New York.

We learn from you, provide care with you, celebrate successes with you, and share in our joint sorrow for those we can no longer help.

It takes special people to do this work, it is hard, stressful, and at times overwhelming, especially over these past two years

Thank you for choosing to work here at Upstate, for choosing to help the people of Central New York, and for choosing to collaborate with Upstate nursing to deliver exceptional care

You are exceptional and we appreciate you every day!

Scott
