Importance: High

Hi, everyone:

As part of our leadership curriculum, Upstate University Hospital is hosting a series of talks focused on the “nuts and bolts” of healthcare management.

The next presentation in this series will be held on Thursday, April 25, from 12 pm – 1 pm, with our Chief Nursing Officer, Scott Jessie, presenting an overview on hospital operations entitled:

“Hospital Operations: The Nuts & Bolts of Patient Care; We’re All in this Together!”

Scott Jessie, MSN, MBA, RN, CNS, NEA-BC has more than 25 year’s experience in the health care field, including over 15 years in administration. He has been with SUNY Upstate since 1999 in various bedside and unit leadership roles. He has served as Staff Nurse, Clinical Leader, and Unit Manager in the MSICU, SICU, and Burn ICU. He also served as Associate Director of Nursing for Emergency Services in 2016 and Executive Director of Nursing in 2019. He was then appointed CNO in September 2021. Scott has extensive experience in ICU and ED settings, hospital operations, staffing, budgeting and employee labor relations.

CME and ACHE credits are being offered. Advanced registration is required: <https://bit.ly/3PASZ8w>. Once registered, you will receive a unique zoom link to access this presentation.

Please see the attached flyer for details and feel free to share with anyone with interest.

We look forward to “seeing” you there!

Best,
Amy
