Subject: CMO BLAST: Virtual Healthcare Transformation Grand Rounds - Physician Suicide: Reconceptualizing "Do No Harm" on May 11

Importance: High

Upstate University Hospital will host a virtual Healthcare Transformation Grand Rounds presentation entitled "Physician Suicide: Reconceptualizing "Do No Harm" on Wednesday, May 11, from noon – 1:30 pm. All professions and specialties are invited to attend.

The presentation will include a showing of the film "Do No Harm" followed by a panel discussion featuring:

- Jarrod Bagatell, MD - Director, Employee/Student Health
- Leslie Kohman, MD, FACS – Chief Wellness Officer
- Seethalakshmi Ramanathan, MD, MPA – Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences
- Kaushal Nanavati, MD – Assistant Dean for Wellness
- Thomas Schwartz, MD – Chair, Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

In the United States, the rate of death by suicide among physicians is higher than the general population. It is estimated that 300-400 physicians die by suicide every year. Despite the high prevalence of suicide, mental illness and suicide among physicians and healthcare workers remain under-recognized.

At the conclusion of this presentation, participants will be able to:

- Recognize the prevalence of suicide risk among current and future physicians
- Describe risk factors for suicidal crises among physicians
- Discuss mitigation strategies and local resources that are available for physicians experiencing mental health problems.

CME credits are being offered. Advance registration is required: <https://upstate.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJcsf-urqDgtHNJX-5ehIjWGdPYH0yEX6QNA>. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Best,
Amy
