

UPSTATE

MEDICAL UNIVERSITY

Co-sponsored by:
Department of Public Health &
Preventive Medicine and Department of Pathology.

GUN DEATHS

The Epidemiology, Law & Policy of Prevention

Check out our Master of Public Health (MPH) Degree Program and our Certificate of Advanced Study in Public Health at:

www.upstate.edu/cnymph

Applications for 2014 accepted through April 15, 2014. Apply early, enrollment is limited.

Disclosure Information: The speaker and planners for this activity have disclosed they have no financial relationships with commercial entities and will not discuss the off label use of pharmaceuticals.

GRAND ROUNDS

Thurs. November 14, 2013

12:15-1:15 p.m.

Room 2231

Weiskotten Hall

Upstate Medical University campus

766 Irving Ave.

Syracuse, NY

Presented by:

Stephen Teret, JD, MPH

- Professor, Department of Public Health & Management
- Director, Johns Hopkins Center for Law and the Public's Health
Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

AS SEEN ON PBS NEWS HOUR!

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- ♦ Public health professionals
- ♦ Physicians
- ♦ Nurses
- ♦ Physician assistants
- ♦ Nurse practitioners
- ♦ Students
- ♦ Anyone interested in public health, community health, and prevention.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of Dr. Teret's talk, participants will be able to discuss:

- Describe the epidemiology of gun violence in the United States.
- Discuss whether US constitutional law allows the enactment of gun violence legislation.
- Determine what types of gun violence prevention policies would be most effective in reducing the incidence of gun violence.

The presentation is free and open to the public. Questions? Cindy Paikin: paikinc@upstate.edu
For those who can't attend in person, register for our webinar at:
<https://www.gotomeeting.com/register/560303585>