

3/19/2020 – NBME Update

Hello MS3s!

Hot off the press from NBME - they are working to allow us to administer subject exams using remote proctoring tools. The target date is April 7. There is no guarantee but it does open up the possibility that you could take the subject exam at the end of this clerkship block (even if you haven't finished your clinical time yet). Note that this is new information and we still have many things to work out in terms of meeting and assessing clerkship objectives. But we wanted to share info as we get it and keep you informed.
